

Bachelor of Science Adult Degree Completion Programs

Early Childhood Education (BSECE)

History of the BSECE (P-5)

In January 2004, the Education Department began offering a program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood Education. This program is designed to give people who are working in instructional roles in schools (e.g., paraprofessionals, other employed instructional support personnel, or classroom teachers) a structured way to earn both a baccalaureate degree and a Georgia teaching certificate in early childhood education (P-5). The program was reviewed by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (PSC) in April 2004 and was granted official approval in December 2004. Upon completion of this program, graduates are eligible to receive an initial clear renewable teaching certificate for the state of Georgia, valid for five years.

The PSC requires all students in this program to pass the Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators™ (GACE™) at both entry to and exit from the program. The GACE Basic Skills Tests are required to enter the program and the GACE Content Assessments are required at the conclusion of the program.

See www.gapsc.com for information about the PSC and www.gace.nesinc.com for information about GACE.

The program was also approved by the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI) in March 2007. Upon completion of this program, graduates are eligible to receive a renewable ACSI certificate at the elementary (K-8) level, valid for five years. (See www.acsi.com)

Structure of the Program

The Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood Education degree completion program consists of 68 semester hours of course work. Classes are distributed over four semesters. The program takes approximately 23 months to complete. A vital part of the program is field experience which links college class discussion to classroom practice in the schools. Course field work occurs throughout the program in the classroom where the student is employed and in other classrooms in order to meet Georgia standards of experience in diverse settings and at differing grade levels. The professional teaching practicum in the final semester consists of one eight-week placement and one four-week placement, one in grades P-3 and one in grades 4-5.

The student teacher will have the full teaching load for at least three weeks of the eight-week placement and for two weeks of the four-week placement.

The eight-week placement will usually be in the classroom of employment, providing the student is employed in a self-contained K-5 classroom. If a student's classroom of employment is a state-approved PK program, that student will complete the shorter four-week practicum in their classroom of employment and the longer eight-week placement elsewhere. If a student's classroom of employment is a PK program that is not state-approved, that student will need to leave his/her classroom of employment for the entire 12 weeks.

The Developmental Portfolio

The Developmental Portfolio is a collection of evidence that provides a record of the candidate's progress towards meeting the Education Department's teacher standards. This compilation of material synthesizes the candidate's coursework and fieldwork experiences and provides a summary of development from the candidate's perspective. It serves to encourage the candidate to be actively involved in monitoring and reflecting on his/her development as a teacher and provides assessment data for candidate and program improvement.

The completion of the Developmental Portfolio is a requirement for the successful completion of the Covenant College Teacher Education Program and is completed through LiveText.

LiveText

College LiveText edu solutions™ is a suite of web-based tools. Education students use LiveText to submit course assignments online for review/assessment as well as to develop electronic portfolios. Through LiveText, students have access to unitedstreaming™ which offers 15,000 chaptered video clips, all correlated to state educational standards, that students can add as resources to LiveText lesson plans, projects, WebQuests, and portfolios. (See www.college.livetext.com.)

Teacher Placement Service

A variety of services are offered to TEP students by the Teacher Placement Service. Education Courses

120. Foundations of Education

A study of various foundational principles that inform an understanding of the role of the teacher, the nature of the student, the law and education, and the mission of the school. Students evaluate these principles from a Christian perspective and apply the principles in school settings. Four hours.

215. Technology for Educators

This course prepares students to integrate technologies in teaching, learning, assessment and the school curriculum. Students develop competence in planning and designing learning environments and experiences that use technologies. The course addresses social, ethical, legal and human issues, and assists students in developing a Christian perspective on the use of technology. Three hours.

222. Educational Psychology

The central concern of this course is the question, "How do people learn?" For answering that question, a biblical view of human beings, their behavior, and their relationship to learning is the starting point. Through the biblical framework, the major families of learning theory (behaviorism and cognitive-field psychology) are then examined to determine what things are acceptable and helpful to the Christian teacher. The last part of the course emphasizes the measurement and evaluation of learning. Three hours.

234. Teaching in a Pluralistic Society

A course providing students with information about categories of student diversity such as race, ethnicity, gender, socioeconomic status, religion, home language and learning style. Contemporary research and practice related to these areas, drawn from the disciplines of education, history, anthropology and sociology are surveyed and evaluated. A variety of teaching strategies and resources are developed which embody a biblically informed understanding of the teaching-learning process, and which enable students to become effective teachers in heterogeneous classrooms. Directed field-based experience is required. Three hours.

310. Professional Development Experience I

311. Professional Development Experience II

312. Professional Development Experience III

BSECE courses require fewer hours of seat time than traditional undergraduate college courses require due to the assumption that the student's daily work in an instructional setting within a school makes a significant contribution to the education of the student. This course is designed to provide focused fieldwork related to each BSECE course in order to extend and integrate in-class instruction with field experiences. Focused field experiences will provide BSECE students the opportunity to learn what it means to apply their faith to various classroom situations. The fieldwork assignments will be in grades PK-K, 1-3, and 4-5 in diverse school/student settings. EDU 310 is taken during the first semester of BSECE, EDU 311 during the second semester, and EDU 312 during the third semester. Each course is zero-credit and taken as pass/fail. A passing grade in each course is required for completion of the BSECE program.

313. Language Arts Content and Skills in the Early Grades

An overview of the purpose and use of language from a Christian perspective forms the framework for this course. The student examines the goals, methods, materials and evaluation in teaching, listening, speaking, handwriting, spelling and writing. Directed field-based experience is required. Two hours.

315. Teaching Reading in the Early Grades

This course is designed to provide a foundation in the teaching of reading. It includes a general survey of approaches to reading instruction along with a critical analysis of those approaches. The content focuses upon those competencies which may be considered essential regardless of the grade level taught. Direct application of the knowledge, skills and attitudes will focus on the tasks confronting the reading teacher. Directed field-based experience is required. Three hours.

317. Assessing and Correcting Reading Difficulties

This course is designed to prepare classroom teachers to assess reading performance, identify reading difficulties, design instruction to remediate weaknesses, and promote increased reading achievement. Candidates will use informal and formal assessment tools to evaluate students in classrooms. Two hours.

324. Science Content and Skills in the Early Grades

The learner studies instructional procedures, materials, and evaluation in teaching biological and physical sciences in the elementary school. Three hours.

326. Mathematics Content and Skills in the Early Grades

This course focuses on the goals, methods, materials, and assessment procedures of mathematics instruction in the early grades. Directed field-based experience is required. Three hours.

328. Social Studies Content and Skills in the Early Grades

This course is an introduction to the theory and practice of teaching social studies in the early grades. Topics include educational research and practice related to social studies instruction in the early grades; theories about the nature of the learner, the teacher, and the classroom environment as they relate to the teaching of social studies; curriculum content (including Georgia history); planning and implementation of instruction; selection and use of instructional materials; and assessment. Social studies introduces students to the nations and people of the world, the cultures that they have constructed through the ages, and the many ways in which people interact with each other and with their environment. This course, therefore, will give students the opportunity to rigorously consider the implications of a biblical worldview for their own understanding of the world and its people and to consider its influence in shaping their teaching. Three hours.

337. Teaching Art, Music and Physical Education in the Early Grades

A course designed to teach the rudiments of educational theory and practice in the fields of art, music and physical education. Students will focus on the following topics: 1) Art: essential techniques, methods and materials in classroom organization and the operational phases of an art program; 2) Music: instructional methodologies such as Orff, Kodaly and Discipline-based Music Instruction; 3) Physical Education: basic motor learning through sequential movement education principles. Three hours.

361. Education of Exceptional Children

A course designed to introduce legal definitions, and clinical characteristics of categories of exceptional children, with an emphasis on etiology, identification, assessment and the provision of educational services, including services mandated by federal law. Topics include mental retardation, learning disabilities, physical disabilities, emotional problems and giftedness. Directed field-based experience is required. Three hours.

366. Literature for Children in the Early Grades

A course designed to explore the vast resources in children's literature and to show appropriate ways of making literature a delight for young children. Directed field-based experience is required. Three hours.

370. History and Philosophy of American Education

A course designed to provide an overview of the leading ideas and institutional developments that have shaped the character of American education. Of particular interest are the influence of Puritanism on education, the rise of the public school movement, the legacy of John Dewey and the Progressive Movement and the Christian school movement. Students will look at educational developments within their social, intellectual and political contexts. Three hours.

410. Educational Assessment

A course designed to introduce the basic theory and practice of educational assessment in the early grades. Topics will include a general perspective of assessment in schools and society; the development of traditional, performance, and product assessments; writing assessment; affective assessment; and standardized assessments. One hour.

444. Essentials of Instruction in the Early Grades

All teachers have certain beliefs, traits, behaviors and practices that can either improve or inhibit learning in the classroom. Today there exists a growing body of literature on effective teaching. This course focuses on strategies that can lead teachers to choices and actions that should enhance learning. An effort is made to connect a Christian philosophy of education with a research-based instructional skills model. This model is relevant to the early/middle grades and all subject matter. Directed field-based experience is required. Three hours.

454. Organization and Management of the Early Grade Classroom

Students will examine classroom management from a Christian perspective with a special emphasis upon a biblical view of the nature of the child. Students examine eight models of discipline as well as developing their own management plan. Directed field-based experience is required. Two hours.

480. Senior Integration Paper

This course includes a review of literature and the preparation of a paper that demonstrates personal and practical application of a Christian philosophy of education to the classroom processes of teaching and learning. Two hours.

489. Student Teaching Seminar: Early Childhood (P-5)

This course integrates practical approaches and theory to real-life situations experienced during the student teaching experience. Content areas include school culture and classroom learning environment, classroom management, lesson design, implementation, reflection, and legal and ethical issues related to teaching. Pass/fail grading only. One hour.

492. Teaching Practicum: Elementary Grades

The professional teaching practicum is divided into three segments and provides full-time teaching experience in three grade levels (PreK-K, 1-3, & 4-5) and in diverse settings. The first section (I) is 8 weeks long and is usually completed in the candidate's school of employment. Sections II and III are each two weeks long and at least one of these must be completed in a different school than the one in which the candidate is employed. Pass/fail grading only. Prerequisite: Approval to student teach given by the Teacher Application Committee. Twelve hours.

Bible Courses

251. Biblical Literature for Educators

This course will survey biblical literature from the perspective of the unfolding of God's covenants. In the Old Testament, emphasis is given to the promise made with Abraham. This promise is followed through the different periods of Old Testament history, concluding with the expectation of the prophet Malachi. The New Testament emphasizes the fulfillment found in the person of Jesus "the Christ" (Gospels). The "good news" of Jesus is taken throughout the Roman Empire (Acts and Epistles). The books of the Bible will be studied as they appear in this historical framework. Three hours.

252. Christian Doctrine for Educators

This discussion of Christian beliefs will be centered around the following six topics: (1) the Bible, (2) the triune God, (3) sin and its effects, (4) Jesus "the Christ," (5) the Christian church, (6) the study of the last things. The topics will be studied from a scriptural and historical point of view. The perspective will be from the Protestant viewpoint and at times, Presbyterian distinctives will be presented. Three hours.
