Standards of Conduct for the Covenant College Summer Institute

Students must conduct themselves in a way which reflects a commitment to holy living: doing what the Bible requires, abstaining from what the Bible forbids, and carefully discerning the will of God in every area of life. In addition, the College believes that there are some practices which, though they may not necessarily go against specific biblical teachings, are not in the best interest of others in the community. Students are expected to encourage each other to live according to these standards. For this reason, students who are present when behavior occurs that violates the standards may be found responsible for supporting the behavior.

- ▶ Students at Covenant are to practice all the virtues taught in the Scriptures such as: self-discipline, modesty, patience, and honesty.
- ▶ Students are also required to abstain from all activities which violate biblical teachings such as: theft, drunkenness, slanderous or profane language, all forms of dishonesty including cheating, the use or possession of any form of pornography, and any violation of the Statement on Sexual Identity and Conduct, which is included in the Student Handbook (covenant.edu/StudentHandbook). Students must also strive to put off all sinful attitudes such as greed, jealousy, pride, or lust and should love others without regard to ethnicity, gender, socioeconomic status, or struggles with sin.
- ▶ Additionally, students are to use wisdom and Christ-like discretion in the application of biblical principles to decisions regarding all areas of life such as: the involvement with various forms of media, all non-college organizations, social interaction, and the physical expression of intimacy in relationships.
- ▶ The Scriptures call us to obey the authorities which have been placed over us in the civil government. All students are required to uphold local, state, and federal law except on the rare occasions when compliance with the civil authority may be in conflict with the Scriptures. Students violating any civil law such as: possession of illegal substances, underage drinking, illegal possession of firearms, physical or verbal harassment, gambling, copyright violations, illegal entry, the possession, sale and use of fireworks, etc., may be referred to the civil authorities for prosecution and may also be subject to disciplinary action by the College.
- ▶ The College has established rules and guidelines which all students must comply with whenever they are on campus. These include residence hall rules, as well as rules set by departments including, but not limited to, the library, technology services, and safety & security.
- ▶ Students are prohibited at all times—whether they are on or off the campus—from the possession and use of alcohol, tobacco, and/or other nicotine delivery devices (such as e-cigarettes, hookah, and vaporizers). Even though these nicotine delivery devices may at times be used in ways that do not require tobacco or nicotine we do not allow students to possess or use these instruments. Additionally, students may not come to campus exhibiting any discernible signs of alcohol or tobacco use.
- ▶ Students found in violation of these Standards of Conduct will receive disciplinary action from the College. The College recognizes that some breaches of the Standards of Conduct are best handled through punitive discipline, some by counseling or involvement with an outside agency or church and others by informal admonishment. The College reserves the right to handle each situation in the manner which it deems most effective for the correction and development of the individual(s) involved, as well as in the best interest of the College community.

These Standards of Conduct apply from the first day of residency or moving personal belongings into residence, and/or first day of classes, whichever comes first, to the last day of residency, the last class and/or the last academic function for the term, whichever comes last.

As a part of these Standards of Conduct, students are to comply with all federal, state, and local laws.

Self-Confession at Covenant College

In an effort to encourage the disciplines of confession and repentance, the College has developed a parallel disciplinary response for those students who self-confess to issues that violate the Standards of Conduct. Students struggling with difficult issues in their personal lives are encouraged to seek out a student development staff member for help at any time. Except in situations where the College is required by law to take appropriate disciplinary action (e.g. harassment, sexual assault, etc.), students who come to a student development professional staff member for help related to lifestyle behaviors (e.g. alcohol and drugs, pornography, tobacco use, sexual issues, etc.) prior to staff becoming aware of a violation of College policy will be offered support and help outside of the standard student disciplinary process. A student development staff member will work with the student to deal with the particular violation and do so in an intentional, organized process of accountability that may include counseling, repentance to others, and ongoing accountability for a prescribed length of time.

Involvement of Parents & Guardians

If students under the age of eighteen are involved in an emergency or discipline situation, then the College may contact the student's parent or guardian.
